

Allison Thomson

- Foundation for Food & Agriculture Research
- AgMission Program Director

- We connect funders, researchers and farmers through public-private partnerships to support audacious research addressing the biggest food and agriculture challenges. FFAR focuses on sustainability challenges for farmers, that are cross-disciplinary by nature and supports actionable research.
- FFAR works across seven key challenge areas including climate mitigation, sustainable water management, urban food systems, and the health-agriculture nexus which all rely on a FEWS perspective.